MANY JAPANESE SOLDIERS ARE KILLED AS BATTLE FOR AERIAL SUPREMACY RAGES OVER PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Offensive is Pressed to Drive Germans Off Russian Soil

Malayan Campaign War of Position in Jungle Fastnesses

By the Associated Press
Japanese officials took worried cognizance today of an allied aerial and submarine counter-offensive which has taken a toll of uncaptured thousands of Japanese troops enroute to Oriental battlegrounds.
A joint army-navy communique warned the Japanese people today "against the lurking danger of enemy submarines" off Japan's island coasts and urged them to "prepare for a protracted war wherein hostile submarines and aircraft bombing will play a role."
Thus far, between them, the United States air force and the Dutch submarine fleet, operating over and under the China Sea have sunk eight troop-laden vessels headed for Philippine and Malayan landings, along with two supply ships, while the air force is credited with damaging five additional transports.
Tomara, Japanese island off the southeast China coast, was alarmed Saturday night when 12 planes, apparently on reconnaissance, were sighted off Takao.
The Japanese statement indicated that the war on the sea and in the air was drawing closer to the island empire.
The struggle in the Philippines was resolved today into a contest for air supremacy while the British acknowledged that the Japanese had gained ground in the Kedah area of northern Malaya where "confused" warfare has taken root in the jungle fastnesses.

The mid-day communique of the war department in Washington said that air action continued over Luzon, the principal Philippine island, and that ground operations were continuing in the northern and northwestern sections of the island as well as in the vicinity of Legaspi in the southeast.

The northern area referred to apparently is the Aparri region and the northwestern section, the Vigan area.

Hongkong, British crown colony on the south China coast, and No. 2 naval base in the Far East, appeared to be the point of greatest pressure of Japan's greater East Asia offensive.

The British acknowledged a withdrawal from Kowloon, a city of the colony, which permitted the Japanese to advance to within rifle shot of the island of Hongkong, just off the Kowloon peninsula.

At Manila, Japanese bombs fell again at mid-day on the Nichols field area.

The British said that empire forces protecting British Malaya and Singapore from Japanese drives based in Thailand had made a "slight withdrawal" amid "very heavy fighting." Singapore, Britain's No. 1 naval base in the Far East, lies at the opposite or southern end of Malaya.

The British were confronted with another Japanese invasion of empire territory on the Kra isthmus neck of the Malay peninsula where British Burma shares a narrow stretch of land with Thailand. The Japanese were said to have crossed into Burma from a landing on the eastern side of the isthmus.

Germany and Italy contributed little positive data to the war picture. Except a Berlin acknowledgment that the Russians still were attacking on the eastern front and a Rome admission that two light cruisers had been sunk in the Mediterranean. The Italians claimed, however, that two British cruisers had been hit with torpedoes and a Dutch destroyer sunk.

Both Germany and Italy reported resistance to the British offensive in Libya.

The British admiralty announced that one of its submarines penetrated the harbor of Candia, German-occupied Crete, and sank an Axis supply ship and a salvage barge, while elsewhere in the Mediterranean a 12,000-ton Italian vessel was sunk.

Four Japanese Transports Claimed Sunk by U. S. Fliers and Three More Damaged During First Week of War

RESUME LUZON ATTACK

By R. P. CRONIN

Manila, Dec. 15.—(P)—United States army bombers, resisting Japanese attempts to reinforce troops landed at Legaspi, on the southeastern tip of Luzon island 250 miles from Manila, heavily damaged two Japanese transports yesterday, U. S. army headquarters reported today.

Announcement of the new American success followed by 24 hours an official bulletin declaring that during the first week of the war army bombers sank our Japanese transports and badly damaged three more off northern Luzon, (Turn to Page Two)

HONGKONG DEFENSES TIGHTEN

Enemy is Reported Pounding City From Land and Air as British Forces on Kowloon Peninsula, Crown Colony's Mainland Section, Continue to Withdraw to New Positions According to Plans

ATTACK LAUNCHED BY CHINESE CONTINUES

London, Dec. 15.—(P)—The Japanese have pounded Hongkong from the land and air for the past two days as British forces on Kowloon peninsula, the crown colony's mainland section, fell back to defend Hongkong island, British sources declared today.

The withdrawal, they said, was ordered according to plan and "still is going on."

One potential source of relief for the colony was a Chinese attack on the rear and flank of the Japanese on the mainland, but the British here said they had no information on that operation beyond Chungking advice that a fierce assault is in full swing against the Japanese in the Tamsui area, north of Hongkong.

Hongkong island rises steeply from the flat waterfront to the gun-studded heights of "the peak" overlooking the island city of Victoria and the Kowloon plains across about one mile of water.

The British said that they were (Turn to Page Two)

SLATE - MAKING DISCUSSIONS ARE POSTPONED

Informal Parleys at Annual Dinner of Pennsylvania Society in New York Fails to Bring About Desired Results

SIX ARE MENTIONED

BY TOM REEDY

Harrisburg, Dec. 15.—(P)—Republican leaders put off until the first of the year further discussions of a gubernatorial candidate for the 1942 primary, after informal parleys in New York failed to develop accord on any one man.

The discussions in New York were coincident with the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Society, a social organization of native sons, founded in 1899.

Various groups speculated on at least six possible candidates for governor. Mentioned informally were U. S. Senator James J. Davis, Major General Edward Martin, State Supreme Court Judge George W. Maxey, Attorney General Claude T. Reno, Richard P. Brown, former secretary of commerce, and State Senator Weldon B. Heyburn.

The war situation clouded Martin's status. He has reached the retirement age of 62 for active service as commander of the Pennsylvania National Guard. Whether the armed forces retain the general in some capacity has not been made known. Friends of Martin said he would rather continue as a soldier than seek governorship.

Davis' presence in Washington in the emergency might be required, it was said, and some leaders tentatively advanced Judge Maxey as a compromise candidate providing he would consent to making the campaign. Maxey rejected similar advances in 1937 and Arthur H. James was nominated and elected.

Mention of Brown came from friends friendly with an insurgent bloc committee to opposing the present state committee membership in the May primary. Brown, William R. Harman and P. Stephen Stahlacker have built an organization calling itself "the new guard" and demanding new leadership.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(P)—The government prepared today to seize a billion dollars of enemy assets as collateral for any American claims, against the hostile governments, and a special force of "G-men" was ready to impound the enemy-owned property.

Title to the property to be taken over is vested in enemy aliens living outside the United States and Axis nationals who are in custody.

Officials emphasized that the government does not intend to disturb the property of law-abiding aliens. For that reason, Germans, Italians and Japanese need not worry about their homes and their bank accounts unless they are in the minority which has been arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Moscow Claims Adolf Hitler Has Sacrificed 6,000,000 Men, More Than 15,000 Tanks, 13,000 Planes and 19,000 Cannon Since the Start of Invasion on the 22d of Last June

YUGOSLAV ARMY STILL RESISTING STUBBORNLY

The Russian army was reported today pressing an offensive for the extermination of all German armies on Russian soil. Pravda, Communist organ in Moscow, said the Soviet troops already had destroyed "an entire generation of Nazis."

As the Russians took the offensive after reporting the successful defense of Moscow, Leningrad and the Caucasus, they claimed Adolf Hitler had lost, since the invasion began June 22, 6,000,000 men, more than 15,000 tanks, 13,000 planes and 19,000 cannon.

German forces in the southern Russian port of Taganrog, 40 miles west of Rostov, now are surrounded, the Russians declared.

The latest Russian claims said the railway station of Uzdovaya, 40 miles southeast of Tula, Dudna, west of Tula and Yerkhovo, northeast of Leningrad, were recaptured after day-long battling.

The Russians also said a 25,000-ton German troop transport was

STATE CAPITAL PREPARING FOR EXTRA SESSION

Legislature to be Convened After Holidays to Gear "The Arsenal of America" for Maximum Output and End Redistricting Deadlock

POSSIBLE SUBJECTS

Harrisburg, Dec. 15.—(P)—Pennsylvania's capital, already deep in war work, got set today for a special session of the legislature shortly after the Christmas holidays to "gear the arsenal of America" to maximum output and to end the year-long deadlock over congressional reapportionment.

A demand for national unity after Japan's attack in the Pacific brought a quick bi-partisan agreement on re-districting the state for representation in congress, which will be submitted to the general assembly.

Governor James, who put into effect a longdrawn plan to mobilize the state's resources immediately after the Japanese declaration, has begun a survey to determine what other subjects should be submitted to the legislature to place Pennsylvania's vast industrial empire solidly behind the war effort.

In addition to enactment of a congressional re-apportionment bill these have been indicated as possible subjects:

1. An anti-sabotage law to equip the state to act against subversive activities.

2. Increased appropriations to

REPORT IS MADE TO CONGRESS

How Japan's Course of Aggression in Pacific Was Climaxed by Attack on United States at Very Tim She Was Voicing Desire for Peace is Outlined in Message From Chief Executive

RECORD FOR HISTORY TO READ IN SORROW

Washington, Dec. 15.—(P)—President Roosevelt told congress today how Japan's course of aggression in the Pacific was climaxed by an attack on the United States at the very time she was voicing a desire for peace, and declared that "there is the record, for all history to read in amazement, in sorrow, in horror and in disgust."

"We are now at war," the president said. "We are fighting in self defense. We are fighting in defense of our national existence, of our right to be secure, of our right to enjoy the blessings of peace."

"We are fighting in defense of principles of law and order and justice, against an effort of unprecedented ferocity to overthrow those principles and to impose upon humanity a regime of ruthless domination by unrestricted and arbitrary force."

Detailed Account To Be Given By Sec. Knox

Washington, Dec. 15.—(P)—Secretary of Navy Knox, back from a personal inspection of Hawaiian defenses and the damage there from Japanese attack, spent two hours and a half with President Roosevelt today and then disclosed he would give reporters a detailed report at a press conference at 3 p. m. (EST).

The navy secretary gave an initial account of his Hawaiian expedition to the president last night, immediately upon reaching Washington, and then supplied more details today.

The chief executive's message was a chronology of American and Japanese negotiations and of history prior to Japan's onslaught in the Pacific eight days ago.

Supporting his summary with documents and correspondence, Mr. Roosevelt asserted that the "barbaric aggression of Japan in Manchuria" ten years ago set the example and pattern for the course of conquest pursued by the Axis "Through the years which followed," he said, "Germany Italy and Japan reached an understanding to time their acts of aggression to their common advantage—and to bring about the ultimate enslavement of the rest of the world."

He disclosed that several formulas were offered and discussed in negotiations by which the United States hoped to achieve an understanding with Japan for

Chungking, Dec. 15.—(P)—The Japanese have been forced to retire from some of their positions outside Canton as a result of fierce Chinese attacks, and a savage Chinese attack is in full swing in the Tamshui area north of Hongkong, the official Chinese central news agency reported today.

Tamshui is about 28 miles north of the mainland border line of Hongkong colony and about 24 miles east of the Canton-Kowloon railway.

The Chinese said they had destroyed many Japanese defense works around Tamshui. Tokyo, Dec. 15.—(Official radio received by AP)—Japanese dispatches dated from Kowloon, main land section of the British colony of Hongkong, said today that the British defenses on Hongkong island were crumbling under heavy Japanese shelling and aerial bombardment.

The 1941 session of the legislature labored for six months and then turned over to a bi-partisan committee of ten members the problem of reducing Pennsylvania's 34 to 33 members as required by the 1940 census. The deadlock developed because the house of representatives was controlled by the senate by Republicans, and the reduction was limited to one district.

However, immediately after the United States entered the war against the Axis, the committee agreed that each party would eliminate one district and one congressman would be elected at large.

An anti-sabotage bill, drawn upon recommendations of a national defense conference, was submitted to the 1941 regular session, but failed of passage which Attorney General Claude T. Reno attributed to opposition by organized labor.

Vinson declared that the 150,000 tons would not necessitate expansion of present shipbuilding facilities now working on a top speed around the clock schedule on both coasts. He said that all the ships to be built under the authorization would be laid down in the calendar year 1942.

The committee, working under a recently inaugurated policy of holding all its sessions in private, took its action following a conference with Rear Admiral Samuel Robinson, chief of the navy's bureau of ships.

The measure to increase the size of the navy, along with proposals to extend the draft age limits and to give the president extraordinary control over government functions were ready for swift congressional action.

COUNTY WOMAN DIES OF BURNS AT JAMESTOWN

Burns which she received early Sunday morning when her clothing caught fire from an overheated stove resulted in the death of Mrs. Lenore Inez Skinner, 65 years old, of Chandeliers Valley, at the W. C. A. Hospital in Jamestown, N. Y., at 3:10 p. m. yesterday.

According to reports of the accident, Mrs. Skinner, who resided with a son on the Brown Hill road near Chandeliers Valley, arose about six o'clock Sunday morning and had built a fire in a living room stove. The cast iron stove became overheated and Mrs. Skinner went to it to adjust a damper.

As she reached for the damper on the stove pipe, her dress brushed against the red-hot side of the stove, setting it afire. Before others in the house could come to her aid, she was badly burned.

A Sugar Grove physician was summoned and he in turn called the Schoonover ambulance, which took Mrs. Skinner to the Jamestown hospital.

Mrs. Skinner was born in Clarion county, but had lived in Sugar Grove township for nearly half a century. Her husband, Millard Skinner, died nearly 25 years ago. She is survived by one son, Sherwood Skinner, with whom she resided; one daughter, Mrs. E. S. Hanson, R. D. 3, Warren; two sisters, Mrs. Birdie Strickland, of Warren, and another sister in Dist. Pa., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock from the Chandeliers Valley United Brethren church. Interment will be in the Wesleyan cemetery at Sugar Grove.

where the invaders effected landings at several places. Japanese air raiders, meanwhile, returned to the attack on Luzon, sweeping over the Manila area about noon (11 p. m. EST, Sunday) and dropping bombs which a brief communique said fell in the vicinity of Nichols Field.

The communique, issued at 4 p. m. (3 a. m. EST), said that enemy activities throughout the day were confined entirely to the air.

The bulletin also disclosed that Senator-elect Manuel Roxas, a lieutenant-colonel of reserves in the Philippine army, had been ordered to active duty with American troops and had been detailed as aide de camp to Lieut. General Douglas MacArthur, United States commander.

Roxas was formerly secretary of finance in the cabinet of President Manuel Quezon.

At least 40 Japanese planes were officially reported shot down over the Philippines last week, during which the islands were the target of 14 major attacks.

Army aviators firmly reiterated that thus far the Japanese had not landed any parachute troops in the Philippines. Unofficial reports to the contrary, have been found to be false, these quarters said.

The undeniable tension and the sense of unreality which followed the first unexpected Japanese assault in the Philippines appeared to be giving place to a grim determination to make the best of things.

sel, apparently a troop transport, and four smaller vessels were reported destroyed.

Counting these, a German supply ship sunk Sunday off the Norwegian coast, and transports or supply ships destroyed last week in far eastern waters, the American government said.

Earlier the U. S. command at Manila said army bombers severely damaged two Japanese transports yesterday in the area around Legaspi, in southeastern Luzon. 250 miles from Manila, where the army earlier said the Japanese had made a small and then unopposed landing.

That brought to 15 the total of Japanese vessels, excluding warships, reported sunk or damaged in the Far East since the Japanese began their southward push nine days ago.

A U. S. Army review of the first week's fighting said four transports were sunk and three others badly damaged by army bombers off northern Luzon.

Added to that total were four troop ships, laden with men, a supply ship, and an oil tanker which the Netherlands government reported sunk by its navy off Malaya.

The Japanese said their bombers destroyed 40 U. S. bombers and fighters on the ground in central Luzon Saturday, set fire to three aircraft and bagged another fighter off Aparri, on the northern Luzon coast.

BUNDLES GROUP AT TIDIOUTE TO HAVE NEW NAME

It has been learned here that the Tidoute Branch of "Bundles for Britain" is changing its name and in the future will be known as Bundles for Bluejackets, both American and British.
Knitted garments will be sent to the navy designated by the workers, each navy having its own labels.
Officials are soliciting volunteer knitters to help produce warm garments for our seamen fighting in the north Atlantic and Pacific waters. Yarn and instructions may be obtained from Mrs. Arthur Kay or Mrs. Guy Courson.
These women also ask that all out-standing work be completed and returned to them as soon as possible.

TIMES TOPICS

APPEARING AT RUSSELL
The Missouri Fox Hunters, artists from Ashtabula, Ohio, will appear in person Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock in the Clark building at Russell.

HUNTER KILLED
Joseph Billic, Jr., of Daguerre, Elk county, was fatally wounded near his home Saturday as he hunted deer on the final day of the season. Police said he was shot by an unidentified hunter, whose tracks were covered by snow.

HAS BRIDGE HAND
It has come to the attention of the Times-Mirror bridge editor that Florence Osborn, in her December 10 issue of "The Bridge Deck," chose for illustration a nice hand played by Mrs. William McKenney and Mrs. Albert Rockwell, of Warren, in the national championship at Richmond, Va., last week.

TO DECORATE CHURCH
A committee of the Friendship Club, with the help of members of the Married Couples' Club, will meet to decorate the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday, the period to be concluded with the serving of refreshments. The beauty of the Christmas decorations in recent years, managed by this group of younger members, has won deserved acclaim.

TO PERMANENT UNITS
William G. Yanish son of Mrs. Theresa Jagar, of Sheffield and Richard M. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, 7 Mohawk avenue, Warren, have been transferred from Camp Croft, S. C., one of the army's four infantry replacement training centers, following completion of their 13 weeks training there, according to information from the camp today. Their new posts are with permanent units. During their 13 weeks at Camp Croft both were assigned to Company C, 31st Battalion, a heavy weapons unit.

BATTLE CRY OF 1942

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR. Americans All. This our new Battle Cry and it never shall fail. The weasel eyed rats who made the attack, will be mighty sorry they stabbed in the back. So up on your toes Ye Warriors of old, and tell Uncle Sam we'll all help him hold the islands, the main land, and hemisphere, too, and we will settle our score with the rat eyed Mikado. Our patience is ended and with words we can't stop the three world aggressors so we must get out the mop. Our Army and Navy, Marines and Air Corps too, when braided together, the job we will do. The factory employees and home defense workers together with the home folk will take care of the shirkers. Our nation is welded into one mighty throng to prove our belief that right makes us strong. Our cause is just and we'll all fall in line to keep old glory flying during our time.
Composed by Deputy Chief of Staff, George H. Schweitzer, Warren, Penna., and dedicated to the fourth District Meeting, December 14th, 1941.

B. ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
A Feature Service Writer
Washington, Dec. 15—It was just 150 years ago that Uncle Sam put his official guaranty on freedom of speech, press and religion.
On December 15, 1791, the American Bill of Rights (the first 10 amendments) was tacked onto the Constitution to safeguard the liberty of the individual—a principle for which an old Greek gentleman named Socrates had died 2,100 years before.
From Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry to Eugene Debs and Charles Evans Hughes the Bill of Rights has been more zealously defended than any other section of the Constitution. It has had some rough-going, but radicals and conservatives, soapbox orators and presidents have fought for its preservation.

The Constitution as originally drafted contained no provisions for freedom of speech or religion except that it forbade any religious test oath and gave immunity to members of Congress in debate. The framers generally had assumed that the power of Congress did not extend to the press.

Tyranny-dreading citizens were not satisfied. They contended that a guaranty of free speech was absolutely essential. The 10 amendments, containing the substance of George Mason's Virginia Bill of Rights, were introduced in the first congress by Representative James Madison and ratified two years later by the states.
Nevertheless, American statesmen have held that there must be some point where the government may step in to limit speech in the national interest.

War has brought the fiercest controversies over limitations upon the speech and the press. The Alien and Sedition laws of 1798, enacted when war with France was considered imminent, put a drastic curb on criticism of the government. Public indignation boiled when several editors were jailed. Jefferson, upon becoming president, pardoned all political prisoners.

During the Civil War Lincoln cracked down on General Burns and other officers, sharply revoking their orders curbing a so-called disloyal Copperhead" press. In Lincoln's belief the irritation produced by such a restriction was likely to do more harm than the publication would do.

Lincoln contended that the nation must be able to protect itself in war against utterances which actually cause insubordination. However, when a military commission imprisoned Ohio politician C. L. Vallandigham for denouncing the war and the administration, Lincoln commuted his sentence to banishment and gave him a safe escort into the Confederate lines.

When the United States entered the World War, a bill was introduced in the senate which made the whole country a part of the zone of enemy operations and declared a person, who published anything endangering the successful operation of our forces, to be subject to trial as a spy by court martial and the penalty of death.
The bill was shelved when President Wilson wrote a letter to the senate attacking the constitutionality and the advisability of such a law.

During the World War there were 2,000 prosecutions and other judicial proceedings involving speeches, newspaper articles and pamphlets in alleged violation of the Espionage Act. After the Armistice there was an epidemic of legislative moves to punish advocates of radicalism.

Socialist Eugene Debs was sentenced to prison for 10 years for statements made in a speech on pacifism in September, 1918. Many, who opposed Debs' ideas, disapproved of his conviction. He was the only man in history to be nominated for the presidency because they had been elected on while in prison, the Socialists a Socialist platform "unimical to the best interests of the state."

Hughes, then practicing law between terms on the Supreme Court, said:
"I count it a most serious mistake to proceed against masses of our citizens combined for political action, by denying them the only recourse of peaceful government, that is, action by the ballot box and through duly elected representatives in legislative bodies."

BILL OF RIGHTS IN NUTSHELL
Washington—The American Bill of Rights, 150 years old on December 15, has been the most ardently defended section of the Constitution. Here is a summary of this "charter of individual freedom" as provided by the first 10 amendments to the Constitution.

Congress shall make no law prohibiting the free exercise of religion or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press and the peaceful assembly.
The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated.
No person shall be held to answer for a major crime unless on an indictment of a grand jury, or be deprived of liberty or property without due process of law.
In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury.
Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted.

choosing him in 1920 resident Warren Harding commuted his sentence after he had served two and a half years.
Former Chief Justice Hughes denounced the action of the New York Assembly when it moved in 1920 to oust five of its members because they had been elected on a Socialist platform "unimical to

BILL OF RIGHTS 150 YEARS OLD

Has man, simply as a human being, any rights in the world merely by virtue of being born into it?

We Americans say yes! The whole core of our political and social belief revolves around the thought that the individual is sacred—that there is something in each man or woman, simply as men and women, which no governments, not social organizations, not monarchs, Caesars, nor dictators may molest or destroy.

The whole colonial history of North America, from its earliest days, is starred with declarations of rights. Government has always been limited. The people have always felt that it existed for them, not they for the government. Always, in a score of solemn declarations, Americans were asserting "I am a man. I can be persuaded, but I cannot be pushed."

When the present American government was organized, these ringing assertions of the rights of men were strongly in the American minds. Assurance was demanded that the new government would not infringe on rights pretty generally conceded to be basic. One hundred and fifty years ago today, on December 15, 1791, about three years after the Constitution went into effect, the first ten amendments became effective. They are called the Bill of Rights.

There was nothing new about them. Practically speaking, they were part of the original Constitution, since adoption was secured on the understanding that they would be included. They simply froze into basic law certain things often asserted before and generally agreed on as fundamental—the right of freedom of worship, of expression, of peaceable assembly and petition for redress of grievances, security against persecutory searches and seizures, of fair trial, of security against loss of private property without fair compensation. All simple things; all things we take too much for granted.

President Roosevelt has done well to call attention to this anniversary, asking that citizens observe Bill of Rights Day on Dec. 15. Whole peoples have not only had these elementary rights snatched from them, but more terrible still, some have even been persuaded that such rights do not exist at all.

The fundamental rights of man can never be permanently taken from him by force. More insidious, more dangerous by far, is the effort to lull man into forgetfulness of his essential dignity and integrity. It is against this danger, as well as the concrete danger from without, that the President has summoned the American people.

It is good to take part in the observances of Bill of Rights Day. It is better still to read that list of rights itself, carefully and thoughtfully, and then to ask oneself, "What would life be worth without them?"

SALVATION ARMY CHRISTMAS WORK

As a feature of The Salvation Army Christmas Work and supplementing the street kettle collections—as well as voluntary gifts—is the annual visit made to homes, including a wide circulation of the organization's Christmas War Cry and loose change collection.

Most interesting are the incidents related by workers engaged in this huge task; some reports include the names of isolated cases for investigation; others tell of service being rendered to members of their families in service by the Salvation Army. Still others include offers of personal service as well as materials, etc.

To date, more than 2,000 such calls have been made, we are told. The number will increase with the limited time left before Christmas week.

Warren corps plans include Christmas season comforts for many shut-ins and as many needy families as funds make possible.

Just as a reminder the local citadel is open daily and gifts may be left for the festive distribution or called for by workers.

A beautiful character who will long be missed by a host of sorrowing friends was laid to rest in Oakland Sunday when services were held for Mrs. Perry D. Clark.

Reports of near accidents resulting from coasters who disregard ordinary rules of caution emphasizes the importance of having streets set aside for this sport.

You can't afford to put off that Christmas shopping much longer.

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Dec. 15.—In winning this war, says Price Administrator Leon Henderson, the one thing second in importance to the organization of the armed forces is the problem of checking inflation.

Stating that problem in terms of the lowest common denominator, the effect war costs are having and will have on the average Joe Citizen looks like this:

The cost of living based on the prices of food, clothing, shelter and utilities, is going up at the rate of about 1 1/2 per cent a month. It has gone up 8 1/2 per cent since last March, and 11 1/2 per cent since the beginning of the defense effort. Also, since last March, there have been wage increases which average out at about 10 per cent. In other words, wage earners as a class are now 1 1/2 per cent ahead of the game but in another month all wage gains will have been canceled out by increases in the cost of living, real wages will be relatively no higher than they were last spring, nobody will be any better off.

Looking ahead a little, taking a peek into the new catalogs which show what the prices will be next spring and summer, there are signs of 20 per cent increases in sight. Even if the 1 1/2 per cent per month increase rate should hold steady, it would take only 13 months to account for a 20 per cent rise.

From a larger, national point of view, it shapes up like this:

Some $67 billion have now been appropriated for national defense. Since the beginning of the war in Europe, September, 1939, prices of everything have gone up about 1 per cent a month. Thus the cost of the defense effort, on the basis of the defense appropriations, is $13 billion more than it would be if prices remained level. And if the Victory defense program requires an expenditure of some $150 billion, then the inflationary overhead might amount to more than the entire cost of the last war, $37 billion.

As of September, 1941, the country was in relative economic balance. Increases in the cost of living were accounted for by increased wages paid out of increased profits and earnings which resulted from using the country's productive capacity to the fullest. For 1942, however, there is an apparent $77 billion supply of consumers' goods with an $83 billion demand. The difference is the $6 billion inflationary gap which needs control.

Price control is not enough. Allocation of materials for civilian uses, control of savings, and other similar measures must be taken to keep this inflationary gap from getting out of hand. A tax which would absorb this $6 billion has been suggested, but Henderson points out that anything of that sort would be a good bit like rain, falling on the just as well as the unjust.

If the United States is to wage a war calling for increased production, it must do so as every other country already in the war has done and control that production. Loss of control of the productive (Turn To Page Five)

British and Germans Keep Eyes on Dakar

AS the war action in Africa increases, it becomes apparent that Dakar, gateway to Senegal on the west French African coast, will become a focal point for the British and German armies.

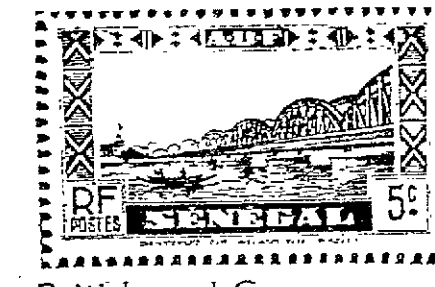

Certain to figure in fighting will be the Faidherbe bridge, pictured on the stamp above, issued late in 1939. The bridge was named for General Louis Faidherbe.

Dakar is vital to Germany as a point of embarkation for possible action against South America or shipping in the South Atlantic. Moreover, the Germans are building a railroad from Libya across the Sahara to Dakar. This railway is the only route the Axis can move troops from North Africa, with ocean lanes blocked.

The British are concerned with Dakar because if it is turned over to the Axis by the French, English dominions would be threatened by attack.

There have been unconfirmed reports that the British are moving bombers and ground personnel into the Sierra Leone port of Freetown south of Dakar.

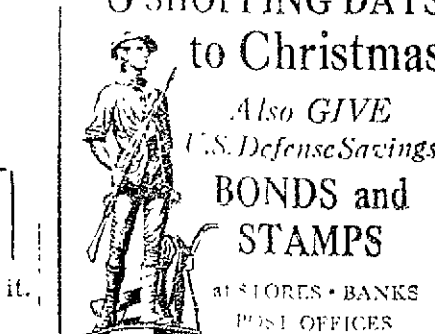

The reports have been circulated by the Germans and may presage more on Hitler's part to send troops to "defend" Dakar.

HOLLAND IN AMERICA

Dutch Guiana has been added to the list of bases on foreign soil where U. S. troops are stationed for protection of the Americas. Let's take a quick trip southward for a look at this hot bit of Holland in South America.

1. What type of mines will U. S. troops protect in Dutch Guiana? What vital defense metal is produced from their ore?

2. Do the Netherlands have any other possessions in this hemisphere besides Dutch Guiana?

3. Where are French Guiana and French Guinea situated?

4. By what other name is Dutch Guiana known?

5. What are principal resources and products of Dutch Guiana?

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—In those last days before the Japanese crisis reached its climax in war, a long-time capital hero was elevated to an even higher pedestal.

He was Cordell Hull, whose firm, untiring efforts to preserve peace in the Pacific were matched only by his insistence on maintaining the dignity and integrity of the United States as a world power.

The Secretary of State is not a young man. A couple of months ago he passed his seventieth birthday. His health has not been perfect by any means. It was not so long since he was forced to take a long vacation in the mountains of West Virginia. Yet in those months leading up to the tragic spread of world conflict in the Orient, there was no harder worker in Washington.

Fifteen to 17 hour days were common for the white-haired statesman. Few workers were ever before him in his offices in the gingerbreaded old State Department building that flanks the White House on the west. And frequently at night, dressed in the old-fashioned nightgowns which he invariably wears ("they're more comfortable," he says), he had dinner in bed in his modest Wardman-Park hotel suite and worked into the small hours.

In the accepted sense, Cordell Hull is not a diplomat at all. He had his early training as a small-time Tennessee lawyer, a member of the House of Representatives for nearly 20 years, and finally for three years before his nomination as Secretary of State, a chair in the Senate.

In Congress, he was recognized more as an authority on tax matters than anything else, being author of the income tax bills of 1913 and 1916 and of the estate tax bill in the latter year.

It was only after his appointment as a member of the original Roosevelt cabinet that he stepped into the international scene. His fight in those years leading up to the present world chaos were for reciprocal trade treaties, a closer affiliation with Latin America, and a firm opposition to aggression.

IN THAT period, Hull's Tennessee wrath on occasions when it was aroused, won him a reputation for being a table-pounding "tough customer," with a full vocabulary of good old American oaths that could be trotted out whenever he felt it necessary.

But it was a different Hull who engineered the foundation for the "Good Neighbor" policy and western hemisphere solidarity at the Havana conference—and it was a different Hull who fought through those long conferences with Japanese Ambassador Nomura and Special Envoy Kurosu. Those conferences, of course, were secret—but enough of them has leaked out to offer a good description of Hull's diplomacy.

It was on the whole conciliatory and suave. Those people who surround him in the State Department, even in his private life, are his willing partners to go over and over every point. Only in the main essentials of our foreign policy toward Japanese aggression did Hull show that rock-ribbed stubbornness of the Tennessee hill man. Yet even in that cleaving to the line of the President's and Congress's approved policy, Hull maintained an outward calm.

Not until that final outburst which started "Not in my city, yearning for public service have I ever known a nation," did Cordell Hull let forth a blast. When he did, it was almost simultaneous with those much more terrible blasts that rocked Pearl Harbor and Guam and the Philippines.

WARREN COUNTY RED CROSS TO RAISE $20,000

While a shocked nation was recovering from the treacherous attack of an aggressor nation, the American Red Cross had already laid preliminary plans for its work in a nation at war.

Although the reports of the annual Roll Call had hardly been completed, the many unselfish workers went back into the front line for humanity's sake and prepared to raise funds to meet the primary and fundamental Red Cross responsibilities to the American armed forces and others in need of the organization's services.

Twenty-four hours after the attack at Pearl Harbor, the following telegram was received by C. J. Cravy, chairman of the Warren County Red Cross, from the national chairman, Norman H. Davis.

"Again the American Red Cross is called upon to serve our nation in war. Both nationally and locally we face vast and definite responsibilities for services to our armed forces and for relief to distressed civilians. To provide essential funds, Red Cross today is launching a campaign for war fund of minimum of fifty million dollars. The President will issue on Friday a proclamation supporting this appeal. Your chapter quota is $20,000. Chapters may retain fifteen per cent of their collections for local war relief expenditures. Chapters should at once devote full efforts to raising their quotas in shortest possible time. Please report action taken. We must not and will not fail in this crisis."

This was a fine example of the speed of Red Cross action—the Red Cross was ready!

When the Japanese struck their treacherous blow at Hawaii and the Philippines the trained Red Cross workers cleared the decks and went into action. Their primary services are mandatory under Congressional charter and Army regulations, but they cannot be efficient without widespread public and voluntary support.

The present drive is already underway—details will be printed in the Times-Mirror tomorrow.

Pennsylvania Oil Operators Doing Their Part In Defense Of Nation

Oil operators of Pennsylvania, who produce lubricants vital to the nation's war effort, have pledged an "all out" effort to assure a plentiful supply of petroleum products, with one spokesman declaring: "If the United States wants more oil, we'll drill the wells."

Although Pennsylvania oil production amounts to less than five percent of the nation's total output, it supplies almost 25 percent of the nation's lubricants demanded in immense quantities by the army, the navy and war factories.

A recent survey by operators indicated that 120,893,157 barrels of oil still below the surface is recoverable by present operation methods. The present rate of production is in excess of 14,000,000 barrels yearly. The survey also disclosed that only 41,500 acres of the 85,000-acre Bradford field has been developed.

Out in the field, where drillers push their heavy tools deep into the earth in search of new production, the war with Japan is the prime topic of conversation.

The husky tool-drillers, who swing 12-pound sledge hammers hours on end to sharpen the 2,000-pound drilling tools, are making the edges just a little sharper in their effort to speed drilling operations.

They know that the faster each well sinks toward the rich oil-bearing sand beneath the surface, the sooner producers will be able to keep their pledge of increased production. Executives of some of the major firms have pointed out there is a lag of six months between drilling and capacity production.

Some of the operators in the field, which produces more than half of the Pennsylvania grade oil, have indicated a campaign to increase production may be hampered by strict government control of crude prices, in effect for the past several months.

Higher prices, the operators point out, would make possible the drilling of additional exploratory wells, similar to the "wildcat" venture which uncovered the prolific Muskegon Mountain field here a few years ago.

But, boost or no boost in the present price of $2.98 a barrel, operators are determined that the nation shall get its oil.

In Chaldea, watermelons are produced for their water.

ing and Currency, which takes over the job that the House bungled, has a much more intelligent grasp of the problem. It was apparent at the opening sessions of the committee hearings at which Leon Henderson testified, that the senators—Glass, Barkley, Maloney, Downey, Taft, and the others—had some appreciation of the fact that the cost of living was an important element in the cost of war and that more defense could be secured in making the dollars buy more through price control than by permitting inflation to make the dollars buy less.

What this means is simply that if the cost of living is permitted to go up, then wages must be permitted to go up to meet the increased cost of living. Increased wages mean only increased costs of war.

The traditional congressional farm policy has been to let prices rise. Unless this is changed, and some sort of discipline put on the prices of farm products, then the country is in for a repetition of World War experience in which the cost of living rose more than 110 per cent.

Traditional Greens Ceremonial Carried Out By YW Members

All departments of the Y. W. C. A. were represented in the "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony which inaugurated the Christmas season on Saturday afternoon.

Forming a circle about the tree in the auditorium, members opened the ceremony by singing "O Come All Ye Faithful," with the general secretary, Mrs. J. H. West, at the piano and Patty Smith playing her violin.

The Spirit of Joy, Ann Livingston, came skipping in with instructions in poetic form for lighting of the candles, the first, trimming of the tree and hanging of the greens about the fireplace. The association president, Mrs. Carl Lundahl, expressed suitable sentiments as she lighted the fire and Betty Jean Kolpien, as the Spirit of Christmas, explained the meaning of the candles placed in windows as she lighted the candles. Other carols were then sung, closing with "Holy Night" as little Ruth Conklin placed a lighted white candle in a window.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson, assisted by younger members of the association. Others aiding in the ceremonial were Miss Dorothy Schmidt, Mrs. W. F. Bennett, Mrs. Mabel Swanson, Miss Catherine Nichols, Miss Mary Thompson and Mrs. Guytha Richardson.

Every member of the Jackson Run Mothers' Circle is asked to be present at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Dove, 309 Jackson avenue. Plans are to be completed for the annual Christmas party.

VISIT HERE FRIDAY
Rev. and Mrs. William E. McAlpin, of Franklin, visited on Friday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Cummings, of this city. Mr. McAlpin is a clergyman at the Presbyterian church at Rocky Grove.

CHANGE TO TUESDAY
The women of the First Lutheran church invite their friends to join them in all-day Red Cross sewing at the parish house on Tuesday of this week instead of the regular Wednesday.

GOING SOUTH
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ruhlman and sons, Ross and Terry, of Mead township, are leaving on December 17 for Largo, Fla., where they will spend the holidays.

HEART BEATS
Stopping the heart for five seconds may cause unconsciousness, but it is possible to restore life after the heart has stopped beating for 15 minutes under some circumstances.

ONE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH AT VENTURETOWN

Fred Schussler, 73, is a patient in the Warren General Hospital suffering severe injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Venturetown Saturday afternoon at 12:40 o'clock. Schussler sustained a broken jaw, broken rib, chest injuries, severe lacerations, possible fractured skull and suffered from shock. His condition is reported to be fair.

According to Private K. E. McCoy, of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, who investigated, the accident occurred when a Chevrolet coupe, operated by George D. Gardner, 10 Main street, North Warren, was about to enter Route 62 just as a Chrysler sedan operated by H. Preston Hoskin, North Warren, was passing on route north. The cars collided head-on.

Schussler was a passenger in Gardner's car. The others involved in the accident escaped with bruises and shock.

The estimated damage to each car was placed at $200. Police have stated that a charge of failure to observe a stop sign will be placed against Gardner.

TIMES TOPICS

CHECK ON SHOPLIFTERS
Shoppers are reported to be busy in many stores in the business section and with the holiday rush at hand the police department has started a drive to check the practice. According to Chief of Police George Hashm, a special detective has been engaged to police the stores and offenders will be dealt with severely.

TAKEN TO ERIE
Jack Brawdy, of R. D. 3, Sugar Grove, who has been a patient in the Warren General Hospital since December 1 with a broken leg, has been taken to the Hamot Hospital in Erie for further treatment.

MEETS TOMORROW
The December meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church will be held Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the church. A large attendance is hoped for as officers for the coming year are to be elected.

SELECTIVE SERVICE TALK
Of interest to all those within the draft age will be a talk to be given tomorrow evening from 6:00 to 6:15 over WJZ, New York, by Dr. William Mather Lewis, retired head of Pennsylvania's selective service system. His subject will be "Vocational Implications of Selective Service."

CAUTION URGED
Attention has been called to the fact that children have been sliding on several streets of the borough where their lives are endangered by motor traffic. It has been urged that caution be used in order to avoid mishaps until the usual streets are set aside for coasting.

CHRISTMAS TREES
Announcement is made that Maynard Johnson has again opened two local stores for the sale of Christmas trees. These stores are located at 229 Liberty street and 216 Pennsylvania avenue, east. All of the trees are fresh cut nursery stock. The stores are open evenings.

HIKERS VENTURE TO TOWN
Earlier plans for the Allegheny Hiking Club's 73rd trip yesterday afternoon were changed because many of the regular hikers had other engagements. Instead of the trip to Hector Springs Falls near Sheffield the hikers walked up the Liberty Street road between Tanner Hill and Bunker Hill to the junction of the Follett Run road, coming down the latter to Venturetown and thence to Warren, covering a distance of a little more than six miles. There were fifteen hikers in the group yesterday, and all enjoyed the pleasant winter afternoon. Announcement for next Sunday's hike will appear in Saturday's issue of the Times-Mirror, and it is probable that this will be the last hike until after the Christmas and New Year holidays.

EVERYBODY READS THE TIMES-MIRROR

MUST HAVE CHURCH PROGRAMS PROMPTLY

Ministers and others in charge of preparing Christmas programs for presentation on Sunday, December 21, are reminded that copy must be in the Times-Mirror editorial rooms no later than noon on Wednesday of this week to insure publication.

Social Events

TRUTH SEEKERS CLASS
On Friday evening, about 40 members of the Truth Seekers Class of Grace church held their annual Christmas party with the children of the Ruth M. Smith home at Sheffield. A bountiful twelve dinner was greatly enjoyed by all, the tables being very prettily decorated with little candle favors of red and green. Santa distributed gifts to each child and to the faculty of the home. The children took members on a tour of the home.

A lovely program of Christmas carols was enjoyed, with Miss Munson at the piano. Special numbers were sung by Lois Shannon and Loretta Likens. They also recited the Christmas story. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games. The committee in charge was: Chairman, Ruth Kary; Grace Johnson, Katherine Joy, Grace Jolley, Mary Knudson, Alice Hamilton, Mabel Garber; entertainment committee, Dorothy Nelson, Mildred Shonnan and Mary Hildum.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CLUB MAKES PLANS

The regular meeting of the Married Couples' Club of the First Presbyterian church will be held Thursday evening, to be addressed by Everett Elliott, Curtiss-Wright test pilot, on "Testing Modern Planes".

A committee from this club is working on plans for a reception and entertainment for the entire congregation, to be held in January, with a minstrel show as a feature of the evening.

STUDENT RECITAL AT CONSERVATORY

A Sonata movement from a Haydn composition, played by Jean Colley, and a clarinet solo by Wilmer Latshaw, featured the weekly recital at the Warren Conservatory of Music on Saturday evening. Regular pupils heard were Kay Hutchins, Gretchen White, Marilyn Samuelson, Ruth Engstrom, Richard Kerr, Rae McCune, Jean Callard, Alice Fehlman and Pauline Zerbe.

MOTHERS' CLUBS SPONSOR PARTY

Were present Saturday afternoon for the delightful Christmas party at the Y. W. C. A. by the Pre-School Mothers' Club and the Young Mothers' Club.

The children enjoyed a movie shown by Miss Elizabeth Jayne, of Walker's, who also distributed a gift to each child from beneath the Christmas tree. The concluding feature was the serving of refreshments.

SEEKERS CLASS TO HAVE HOLIDAY PARTY
The Seekers Class of the First Evangelical church will meet on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Folkman parlors for a turkey supper and Christmas party. Each member is to bring table service and a turkey. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour and the exchange of gifts. Those in charge are the Misses Mabel and Edith Offerte.

Y. W. C. A. SCHEDULE
Monday—12:15, Rotary Club; 6:00, Y-Deb Club; 6:30, Rockwell Class dinner; 7:30, High School Girls' Club.

Tuesday—12:15, Lions' luncheon; 6 to 7, Starbrick Girl Reserves Christmas party; 6:30, Warren Borough Teachers' Association Christmas dinner.

EASTERN STAR PARTY PLANNED
All members of the Order of Eastern Star, both local and out of town, are cordially invited to a Christmas party Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Masonic Temple. A play, "The Last Christmas," will be presented.

SOLDIER HOME
David Whyte, private first class in Company M, 112th Infantry, is home from Indianopolis Gap for a brief furlough with his parents at Corydon.

WEEKEND HERE
Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Grossman, of York, spent the weekend here, guests of Mrs. Grossman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Blair, Hertzell street.

Grange Notes

PLEASANT GRANGE CHRISTMAS PARTY
Pleasant Grange will hold its annual Christmas party for members and their children on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. All adults and children attending are requested to bring a ten-cent gift for the grange. An evening of song and two prizes promised for all who attend.

WARREN GRANGE
The Warren Grange will hold its regular meeting tonight in the Odd Fellows' Hall at eight o'clock. It will be the children's Christmas party and all members are asked to bring their children to enjoy the evening.

DR. MCUNE CALLED
Dr. Quay A. McCune, 510 Pennsylvania avenue, east, a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve Corps, received orders Sunday to report for duty at Philadelphia within five days. Dr. McCune started immediately to make plans to leave for that city. He will leave for Philadelphia on Thursday.

CALLED TO CAMP
Gilbert B. Knupp, a private in the 502nd Parachute Battalion at Fort Benning, Ga., who has been home on a furlough which was to have ended December 20th, received orders Sunday to return to the camp at once and is leaving this evening. He is the son of Mrs. Lillian Knupp, 111 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

LEGION SHOOT
The second rifle practice for members of the American Legion will be held next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Armory range, when it is expected that most Legionnaires and their sons will be on hand. At the shoot last Thursday, top honors were taken by Stormy and Kridler, while Commander Walker was unable to find the target.

SPEAKS TO BOYS
Members of the Saturday Evening Boys Club of the Y. M. C. A., sponsored by the Warren Kiwanis Club, enjoyed a very interesting and inspiring talk by Lt. Comm. Z. M. de Carvalho, Brazilian navy officer, at their weekly meeting Saturday night. Lt. Comm. Carvalho emphasized to the boys the

BIRDS HELPED
Birds helped in the discovery of America. Columbus altered his course to follow the line of flight of migrating birds, the sighting of which gave the discouraged sailors heart to go on.

Halley's comet was the first whose periodicity was predicted. This was in 1704, but verification was not until 1759.

British railways carried more than 12,000,000 pigeons during the pigeon-racing season of 1935.

Large Attendance Expected For Alias Santa Benefit Thursday

Indications point to a large attendance at the benefit party for the Alias Santa Claus Fund of the Times-Mirror, to be held next Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the room over 219 Liberty street.

Although some contributions have been sent in for the fund, it is expected that many others will take this means of jotting in the worthy work of providing additional cheer for many at the Christmas season by attending this series of games.

The admission price of 30 cents will entitle the purchaser to 25 games and a barrel of fun.

At one time, Sweetwater, Tex. was known as Bitter Creek.

There are only 12 letters in the Hawaiian alphabet.

REDSKIN RECRUITERS
Two of Canada's best recruiters among the Indians for army service are two Papot Braves who served in World War I. They are Chief Harry Ball who lost a leg at Vimy Ridge, and Chief Abel Watelch who was gassed.

SOME BEAK
The toucan, a tropical bird found only in the western hemisphere, has a red, blue, orange and white beak that is almost as long as its body. It is used chiefly on fruit and is seldom found north of Mexico.

FOOD SHOW FOR KIDDIES TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Needy families on the lists of the Warren Salvation Army will be remembered on Christmas day with special baskets of food for the festive occasion and much of this will be provided by a Kiddies Food Show at the Library theatre next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced today.

Sponsored by the "Warren, Pa. War Club" with the cooperation of the Salvation Army, the Library theatre and the Times-Mirror, the show will include a movie program which should be enjoyed by all.

Price of admission to Saturday's show will be one article of canned fruit or vegetables. There is no age limit—the show is open to "kiddies" from 6 to 10.

Formerly an annual event, the food show is being revived this year to help the Salvation Army send out good cheer on the holiday.

It was announced that members of the motion picture operators union here are contributing their time to aid in the good cause.

McKenney On Bridge

ONE LEAD SETS THIS
THIS CONTRACT:
DUNNE FINDS IT

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

One of the most noteworthy activities of the American Contract Bridge League is its work among the blind. Throughout the country, blind players are being taught how to play bridge.

The Southeastern tournament which will be held at Coral Gables, Fla. March 12 to 15, always brings out J. Patrick Dunne, the famous blind player of Miami. Pat came up to Asbury Park and started trumps, forcing out the ace. Dunne, sitting East, mentally reviewed the cards indubitably and his hand, then made the brilliant lead of the queen of spades.

He figured that the hand could not be beaten unless West held the ace of clubs or the king of spades. With four hearts and two diamonds declarer could go game by winning four clubs—unless the defense could win three tricks in the black suits quickly.

If West held the king of spades then the lead of the queen was safe. If West did not have the spade king, he would have to furnish a club stopper to beat the hand. But this stopper would be useless unless Dunne quickly established a major tenace in spades over dummy, in the hope of winning two spade tricks when West got in to lead through the jack.

You can see that Pat found the only defense to set the contract.

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

My most pleasant task each year is touring the country in behalf of the "Have-a-Heart-Take-a-Hand" cause of the American Contract Bridge League. This year the various units of the league have raised thousands of dollars for the British American Ambulance Corps, but my hat goes off to Herbert Gerst at Norfolk, Virginia. At every tournament Herb takes time out to do his bit—and at the bridge table he also does his bit in playing handis skillfully.

Gerst, sitting South, won the first lead with the ace of diamonds. He led the heart and West put up the ace. West craftily led the jack of diamonds. Dummy trumped, and cashed the king of spades.

Then came the king of hearts, on which South discarded his low diamond. The nine of spades was led and ducked. West winning with the jack. All that remained for the defenders was the ace of clubs.

Simple as this hand may seem the spade game was lost at several times through inferior technique in declarer's play. And one bad game can wreck a tournament.

GOLD WORKERS

Only 600 persons usually work in the manufacture of gold and silver leaf and foil in the United States normally, but they manufacture about $1,500,000 worth of gold leaf annually.

If the United States were training as many aviators proportionately as Canada 460,000 airmen would be learning to fly under the Stars and Stripes.

OBITUARY

MRS. LILLIE E. CLARK
The funeral of Mrs. Lillie E. Clark, widow of Perry D. Clark, 309 Laurel street, was held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Lutz Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. E. P. Wroth, pastor of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church. Bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery were H. W. Conner, Albert Kunney, Lynn Branch, S. D. Blackman, R. W. Mackay and N. D. Patterson.

Those who came from away were Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Clark, of Detroit, Mich., a son and daughter-in-law of the deceased. The graves were largely attended and many beautiful flowers bespoke the high esteem in which she was held in a community where she had spent her entire lifetime.

ADOLPH STAAF
Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Peterson Funeral Home in memory of Adolph StAAF, 80-year-old former Warren man, who died early Saturday morning at the home of a son, Harry StAAF, in Lakewood, O. Interment will be made in Oakland cemetery. The body arrived here by train on Sunday evening and friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Mr. StAAF, born in Sweden on December 4, 1861, had resided in this country for over 55 years. He had been employed for many years by the Struthers-Wells Company. In September of this year, he went to Lakewood to make his home with his son.

He also leaves two daughters, Mrs. Harry Anderson, of Jamestown, N. Y., and Miss Victoria, of Warren, and a son, Roy, of Warren; eight grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

CHARLOTTE NORDSTROM
Mrs. Charlotte Nordstrom, widow of Charles Nordstrom, passed away this morning at 7:45 o'clock at her home, 223 Jefferson avenue. Her husband preceded her in death three years ago.

She is survived by one son, Holgar C. Nordstrom, and one daughter, Mrs. Bert McConnell, both of Warren.

Mrs. Nordstrom was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Funeral services will be held from the Lutz Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. Bert Edquist officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

JAMES E. FOLEY
Funeral services of James E. Foley, 18 St. Clair street, were held Saturday morning at the St. Joseph's church. Requiem high mass was sung with the Rev. Father William Moore officiating.

Commitment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery with Mark Edwards, Carl Borne, Joe Bonader, Edward Geary, Edward Masterson and Joseph Foley acting as bearers.

Attending the services from away were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnstone, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Alice Kunze, Jamestown, N. Y.; Miss Margaret Kuebler and Mrs. Margaret Foley, Oil City.

WHAT TO DO IN AN AIR RAID

Official—by the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense

1. KEEP COOL

Above all, keep cool. Don't lose your head.

Do not crowd the streets, avoid chaos, prevent disorder and havoc.

You can fool the enemy. It is easy. If planes come over, stay where you are. Don't phone unnecessarily. The chance you will be hit is small. It is part of the risk we must take to win this war.

Until an alarm, go about your usual business and recreation in the ordinary way.

Think twice before you do anything. Don't believe rumors—spreading false rumors is part of the enemy's technique. Don't let him take you in.

Know your air-raid warning. In general, it is short blasts or rising and falling pitch, on whistles or horns. The "all clear" is a steady tone for 2 minutes. Watch this paper for description of the local signal. (This is subject to change.)

Await official information before taking any action. When the Air Raid Warden comes to your home, do what he tells you. He is for your protection. He is your friend.

He will help you do your part to whip the enemy.

We can do it. We will do it, if we stay calm and strong and alert.

2. STAY HOME

The safest place in an air raid is at home.

If you are away from home, get under cover in the nearest shelter. Avoid crowded places. Stay off the streets.

The enemy wants you to run out into the streets, create a mob, start a panic. Don't do it!

If incendiary bombs fall, play a spray from a garden hose (never a splash or stream) of water on the bomb. Switch to a stream to put out any fire started by the bomb. Switch back to a spray for the bomb. The bomb will burn for about 15 minutes if left alone, only about 2 minutes under a fine water spray. A jet splash, stream or bucket of water will make it explode.

Under raid conditions, keep a bathtub and buckets full of water for the use of the fire department in case water mains are broken.

If you have a soda-and-acid extinguisher (the kind you turn upside down), use it with your finger over the nozzle to make a spray. Don't use the chemical kind (small cylinders of liquid) on bombs. It is all right for ordinary fires.

But above all, keep cool, stay home.

Choose one member of the family to be the home air-raid warden—who will remember all the rules and what to do. Mother makes the best.

3. PUT OUT LIGHTS

Whether or not black-out is ordered, don't show more light than is necessary. If planes come over, put out or cover all lights at once—don't wait for the black-out order. The light that can't be seen will never guide a Jap. Remember a candle light may be seen for miles from the air.

If you have portieres, overdrapes, or curtains, arrange a double thickness over your windows. Blankets will do. If you have heavy black paper, paste it on your windows. Don't crowd or stampede stores to get it, however. You probably have everything you need at home. Be ingenious—improvise.

Should you get an air-raid warning, remember to shut off gas stoves, gas furnaces, and gas pilot lights on both. Bomb explosions may blow them out from blast effect. Gas that collects may be explosive later.

Prepare one room, the one with the least window glass, in the strongest part of your house, for a refuge room. Put food and drinking water in it. Put a sturdy table in it. Put mattresses and chairs in it. Take a magazine or two and a deck of cards into it. Take things like eyeglasses and dentures with you when you go into it. Take toilet facilities, paper, a screen. If you have a portable radio, take that too. Above all, keep calm. Stay at home. Put out lights.

4. LIE DOWN

If bombs start to fall near you, lie down. You will feel the blast least that way, escape fragments or splinters.

The safest place is under a good stout table—the stronger the legs the better.

A mattress under a table combines comfort with safety.

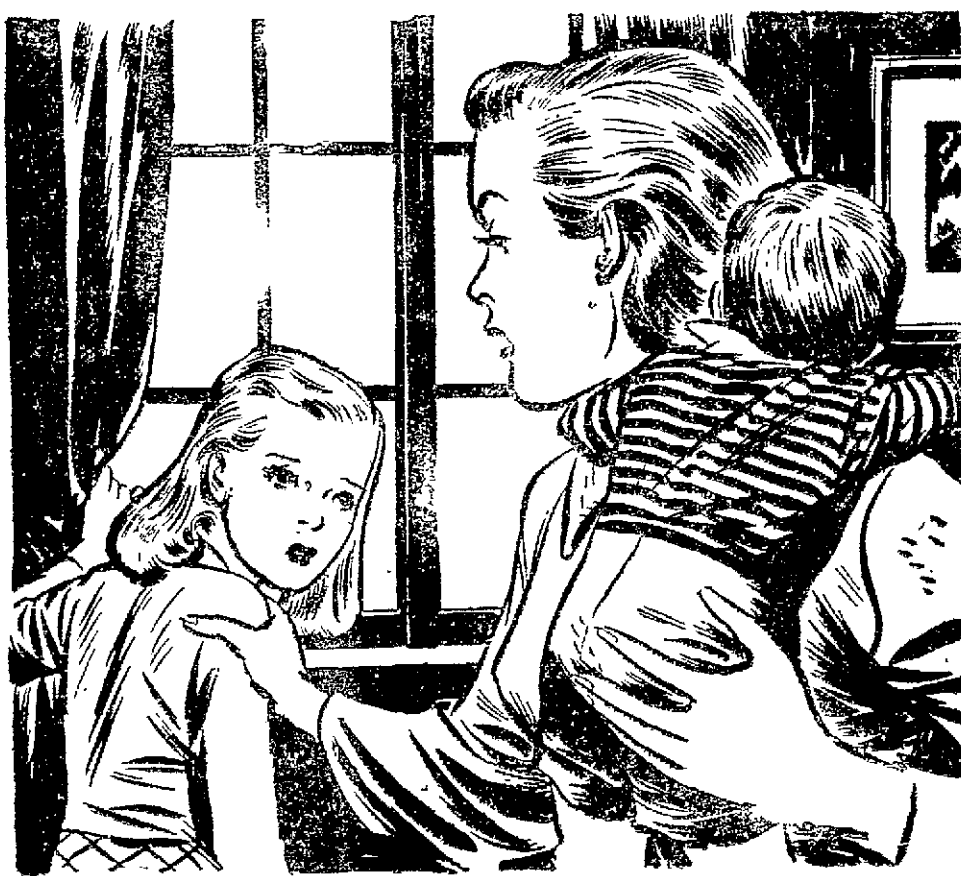

The enemy may use explosive bombs or incendiary bombs, or both. If incendiaries are used, it's more important to deal with them than to be safe from blast. So defeat the incendiary with a spray (never a splash or stream) of water, then go back to safety under a table in a refuge room.

Most raids will likely be over in your immediate neighborhood in a short time. However, stay under cover till the "all clear" is sounded.

Know your raid alarms. Know the "all clear". Official news of these will come to you from your Air Raid Warden. Don't believe rumors. Watch this paper for air raid alarm description. Ask the warden when he comes.

Should your house be hit, keep cool. Answer tappings from rescue crews if you are trapped. (You most likely won't be either hit or trapped, but if you are, you can depend on rescue squads to go after you). Again—keep cool, and wait. Don't yell after you hear them coming to you, unless they tell you to. Keep cool!

Just keeping cool hurts the enemy more than anything else you can do. Keep calm. Stay at home. Put out lights. Lie down.

5. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS

Glass shatters easily, so stay away from windows.

Don't go to windows and look out, in an air raid. It is a dangerous thing, and helps the enemy. The Air Raid Warden is out there watching for you. Again we say, get off the streets if planes come over.

At night, there is danger of being caught in blast from explosions.

Antiaircraft fire means falling shrapnel. You are safe from it indoors, away from windows. It's more important to shell a plane than it is to see it from a window.

Stay in your refuge room, away from windows. That is the safest place. Go there at the first alarm; stay there until the "all clear".

Above all, keep calm. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows. Do not say we are repeating; we would rather repeat until we bore you than have you forget.

You can do all those things without any special equipment other than what you have now in your home.

You can help lick the Japs, with your bare hands, if you will do just those few, simple things.

Be a good fellow and follow instructions and keep well. Do not be a wise guy and get hurt.

6. YOU CAN HELP

Strong, capable, calm people are needed to man the volunteer services. If you want to help, there are lots of opportunities.

If you know first aid, and have a certificate, there is an immediate job for you. If you are a veteran, or a former volunteer or regular fireman, or policeman, there is work for you. If you have no special skills but are strong and husky, there is a job for you in rescue squads, road-repair units, or demolition and clearance squads. If you have and can drive a car, you may be needed for drivers' corps. Older Boy and Girl Scouts over 15 can help as messengers. Both men and women are needed.

Here's how to get started:

If there's a Civilian Defense Volunteer Office in your community, call there and ask where to report. If not, call your local Defense Council or Committee, or the Chamber of Commerce. Phone and ask where to report, rather than going in person.

There are people needed for—

Air Raid Wardens (men and women).
Auxiliary Firemen (men).
Auxiliary Police (men and women).
Fire Watchers (men and women).
Nurses' Aides (trained women).
Emergency Medical Forces (men and women with Red Cross First Aid Certificates).
Rescue Squads (men).
Road Repair Units (strong, husky men).
Demolition and Clearance Squads (strong, husky men).
Electrical Repair units (trained electricians).
Decontamination Squads (strong men and women).
Emergency Food and Housing Units (women who can cook and serve).

Above all, keep cool. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows. You can help!

Seeking New Homes for West's Two New Year's Classics

Chicago, Kansas City and New York Among Bidders for Rose Bowl, East-West Games

San Francisco, Dec. 15.—(A)—The west's famous New Year's ball classics—the Rose Bowl and the East-West games—hunt temporary new homes today as refugees.

Expediency demanded skout of the games. The army's arm. Sponsors agreed to co-locate fully and cancelled all arrangements. Then, as Pasadena and San Francisco kissed dreams of thousands of tourist dollars goodbye, officials went to work to find other quarters for the orphaned sports spectacles.

Where the games might be taken was anybody's guess. Percy, director of athletics at Oregon State College, the west's bowl representative, said he is "receptive to offers" of a use to hold the game.

And he got them. Officials of the University of Oregon State's oice to represent the east, suggested that the game be played at Duke Stadium, at Durham, N.C. "With Rose Bowl sanction or otherwise," Chicago, New York,

Bears, Giants Meet For Pro Grid Title

Chicago, Dec. 15.—(P)—The schedule makers of the National Football League disappointed followers of the New York Giants in not pitting their favorite team against the Champion Chicago Bears, but everything is all right now.

The league's representatives in the nation's two largest cities finished the season's play by winning their respective division titles, automatically placing them as finalists for the championship encounter. The title game will be played next Sunday in Chicago's Wrigley Field.

The Giants knew they were one of the finalists a couple of weeks ago, but the Bears only yesterday captured the west section honors by humbling the Green Bay Packers, 33 to 14, in a playoff.

Yesterday the Bears were open to attack for a full 15 minutes, during which the Packers slipped over a surprise touchdown and then held on tight for a 7-6 lead at the end of the first period.

Then the Bears passed out the jumps in rapid order: First a field goal, then a touchdown and point, a second touchdown and point, a third touchdown and point. And at halftime, the Packers were wobbling under a 30-7 handicap from which they never recovered.

LOTS OF WORK AHEAD BEFORE DRAGONS WILL REALLY CLICK; GET HARD TESTS IN CORRY, ROCKETS, JIMMIES THIS WEEK

With their first game by the boards, even if it went on the wrong side of the ledger, the Dragons can concentrate now upon this week's activities, when they will engage three opponents in four days, two games away and a Saturday night date here with Jamestown. The Kolpien forces, about whom local fans are still chatting after that thriller with Oil City, will take on Corry Wednesday night and should rate as favorites in this one, though they'll be playing on the Beavers' home floor. Friday night will see the locals at Titusville to battle the Rockets in what should be another stiff encounter for a veteran Brown and Gold squad that is ready to spill trouble for any number of foes this winter. And Jamestown's Red and Green probably will provide the test of the three games when they invade Beasly court for the second home game on the Blue and White card. Here another crew of veteran performers will make up the opposition for the local charges, who are badly in need of experience, but have the ability to go places this season. However, it would be well not to expect too much of them in the coming three scraps, because should they fail to claim the bacon then fans, not looking for too much, will not feel so disappointed. At present, there's a lot of work ahead for the Kolpiennens, and no one is more aware of the fact than "Heinie" himself.

Warren went into the Oil City opener without the benefit of any pre-season scrimmage other than the provided by the reserves, with whom they practice nightly. You can get onto one team's system in a few nights' work, but trying your hand in rehearsals with different styles used by different schools develops a stronger team, prepared for the worst and better able to weather a tough game. Kolpien will see that the squad gets a few scrimmages against outside outfits this week in preparation for the test of encounters, and you can bet your waist that by the time the schoolboys come home for their Saturday evening show with Jamestown, they'll be a much improved squad from that which faced the down river Blue and White charges of Coach Hud Wells last Friday night, though it isn't wise to expect them to be at their peak before the league gets under way. It may take into the middle of January before the Dragons click with the precision and harmony needed to win ball games consistently, and they probably will experience some stiff contests with bitter disappointment their only gain before they receive the reward that goes with a highly cherished victory. Following Jamestown on the warm-up slate are the Collegians and Falconer, and the first-named outfit will include a host of stars of the past few years who will have the experience to give the locals a valuable lesson in basketball. After the Falcons are encountered December 26, the Blue and White quint will lay off and take it easy until January 2nd, when Sheffield's Wolverines will parade into town for the loop opener.

Bank Shots... This is the first time in a number of seasons that the Kolpien squad has started its foul shooting records so brilliantly. The second team averaged .508 for the night against the Oil City reserves, while the invaders could hit a mark of only .450. And the Dragon varsity gunners turned in a .727 mark against Oil City's veteran squad's .530. Those marks look a lot better than the puny .300's of last season and the year before, which weren't increased to the .400 circle for nearly a month after the season was under way. We've received a card from Ben Strand, former Erie Vio Oil cage performer, locally new physical director of the Erie Boys' Club, asking our cooperation in helping him to reach teams in this section of 18-year-olds and under who want to book the Erie Boys' Club. They can play almost any Saturday, says Reno. We'd like to have Joe Bonavita drop into the office sometime at his leisure. And will those having sports items to report please bring them into the office or call before nine o'clock in the morning following the event? Russell invades Youngsville tomorrow night and they'd better send some shock troops to absorb the shock ahead of them. The Stockdale charges have prepared a nasty party for the visitors, we're thinking.

Mike Bleech showed the boys how to bowl this weekend, hitting a booming 677 total on the Arcade. He bowled 12-1 while the Marconi Outing was taking four from the Frewsburg Jack's Kendall five.

Bleech hit 253 in the first game, add 177 in the second, and clinaxed the evening with 247 for the big count. Not another bowler on the team could touch 200, but they kept consistent scores coming to give the team a total of 2770.

Beat team total registered by a local five for the weekend wars was that of the Marconi Club bowling at the Bowladrome Alleys in Jamestown. They knocked off 2850 with a high second game to take three points from the Mantagna's, after losing the first game.

And what do you know about their winning combination, same as usual, but with added vitamins in defeat. The Lauterbach Bakery of Erie in a match yesterday afternoon on the Arcade alleys. They took three points as Phil Coyle cleaned the bases time after time. Any more shots like he made yesterday and the army will give Phil a new khaki suit and an airplane.

Another week of bowling gets under way tonight with the Industrial League working their Monday night shift at the Arcade, the Elks, Moose and Conewago leagues opening fire on their respective alleys.

Elk bowlers are reminded that starting this week with tonight's matches, many teams will be bowling on new nights, a condition which will continue for seven weeks until there will be another change for a like period.

And we'll wind this pillar up by making note of the fact that the Warren Moose set new high team game and high team total records on the new Wachter Alleys in Salamanca yesterday. They had 828 and 2691 for the marks.

Nelson Wins Open, Hogan Cops 2 Awards

Miami, Fla., Dec. 15.—(P)—Big time golf's great stretch-runner, Byron Nelson, of Toledo, O., sprinted ahead of Ben Hogan to win first money in the $10,000 Miami Open, but the Little Hershey, Pa., star's second place sewed up for him two of the year's most coveted honors.

Even though he took a 72 and blew his three-day lead, Hogan gathered in a $1,250 check that sent his year's tournament winnings to $17,333—more money than any other pro can win this year.

He also received 30 points toward the Vardon Trophy—the pro's emblem of year-around excellence—to run his total to a new record of 524. With only two P. G. A.-sponsored tournaments left, the second place golfer, Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., did not retain even a mathematical chance of overtaking Hogan.

Nelson burned up the fairways on the last nine and wound up with a brilliant 66 for a 72-hole total of 260, five strokes better than Hogan and six ahead of Slammin' Sammy.

Youngsville, Russell Meet Tomorrow Night

Russell High school will invade Youngsville tomorrow night to battle Coach Harry Stockdale's single squad and will go into the game as sharp underdogs to cop the decision.

The Red and White, with three straight wins under their belt, boast plenty of strength and a clever outfit capable of stopping Pleasantville, Corry and Tionesta so far, and the Russell cagers have lost one verdict to Ludlow in their only start to date.

Meleen and Clark are expected to start at forwards, Aberg at center, and Wingard with Johnson at guards for Youngsville, while Russell is uncertain as to the starting five.

A girls' team will precede the main fracas at 7:30 o'clock, with the boys' game starting immediately after the preliminary is over.

Beaty Varsity Quint Sweeps Doubleheader

The Beaty Junior school varsity opened its season Saturday with two victories in the Y. M. C. A. Older Boys' cage loop, beating the Bulldogs 51-16, then romping to another easy margin over the Squirts by a 53-25 margin.

J. Scallie led the winners in the first game with 24 points and paced the way in the second again with 22, a total of 46 points for the evening. He made 23 field goals.

On a passenger-mile basis, the necessity use of automobiles represents 278,800,000,000 passenger-miles, according to the National Automobile Dealers Association.

DRAGONS SEEK FIRST VICTORY AGAINST CORRY

Preparing for their second stop on a long schedule this winter, the Warren High school Dragons will seek their first triumph Wednesday night when they journey to Corry to meet a veteran Beaver squad.

On their impressive second-half showing against Oil City's Oilers last Friday night the Dragons will raise slight favorites over their hosts in the Wednesday evening encounter.

A lengthy drill was on hand today for the Kolpiennens to straighten out some of the kinkles found against Oil City, and to keep their foul shooting on as accurate a basis as was noted against the Oilers.

Corry will be seeking its first victory, having lost its first game a week ago tomorrow night by a 44-32 count in their opening skirmish of the season on their own court.

The Red and White charges commanded the play in that contest from the first quarter on and had a comparatively easy time in racking up the decision.

Youngsville has a strong quint this season, however, and already seasoned and near its peak, was a more finished squad against the Beavers than were the locals against Oil City.

Martin Smith and Bob Wright are counted upon to keep the Dragon hopes alive in their second start and upon the play of these two lettermen will rest Warren's chances of finding the road to victory.

A preliminary game will be played at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night with the main attraction set for 8:30 o'clock.

Friday night the locals will journey to Titusville to meet a durable Rocket squad, returning home Saturday night to engage the Jamestown high school Red and Green forces.

Kinzua Faces James City Hoopsters Again

Coach Leo MacDonald's Kinzua High school Warriors will go to James City tomorrow night in an effort to avenge their earlier defeat this season at the hands of that team on the Kinzua court.

Beaten last Friday night by dangerous Sheffield, James City's charges will be seeking the winning trail again and hoping to make it two straight over the Warriors this year.

Kinzua, more impressive against Sheffield than was James City, though the Warriors lost to the Wolverines also, have improved a lot since their opener with tomorrow night's foe, and are planning to make this the turning point between losses and victories on their record.

Lucia led the way with 13 points for the winners while Louis Dalrymple collected a like number for the Bulldogs.

Scarlet Terrors Win Over Bulldogs, 40-31

The Scarlet Terrors, beaten only once in seven starts, notched their sixth victory Saturday morning on the high school gym by a 40-31 count over the Bulldogs in a contest that was the last of two of Warren's many junior outings.

Lucia led the way with 13 points for the winners while Louis Dalrymple collected a like number for the Bulldogs.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR. (Wide World Sports Columnist)

New York, Dec. 15.—(Wide World)—Looks as if Kordham's football authorities picked up about $75,000 by not waiting for a call from the Rose Bowl. With two New Year's Day games already off, perhaps the big sports events in January will be boxing instead of bowls. The pin busters are going strong on their campaign to pay off all prizes in defense bonds and there's every indication of the biggest season in years. The Cincy Reds sold the last seat for the opening game of their 1942 season last week. What ever became of the old lawn tennis association idea that boys should not be ranked after turning pro because the lists were just to guide amateur tournament directors in seating players? Anyway, it's a nice ad for Lex Thompson's troupe to have Riggs and Kovacs ranked one-two.

THE PHONE BOOTH MURDER

by Phoebe Atwood Taylor

Chapter 22

The Doanes Confused

"THAT'S Mrs. Hingham's name," Freddy went on. "You see—this is rather complicated, I'm afraid—but people always call her by the name of the husband who bought her the opera company. I don't know why. I presume it's because she was known to more people as Elissa Hingham. She was Mrs. Hingham when she first came here, and we've never called her anything else."

"That still," Assey pointed out, "don't solve the problem of Horace's last name."

Freddy bit her lip.

"Honestly, I can't remember it! Here's Mother," she called to Mrs. Doane, who was just coming along the hall from the kitchen.

"Mother! Mother, what's Horace's last name? Isn't it something like Prang?"

Mrs. Doane looked startled.

"Your father asked me that when they came this year, and I really meant to find it out and learn it. Well, I didn't!"

"You got one, an't you?"

"Of course," Freddy went over to the desk and picked up a tooled leather book. "Here. They came two weeks ago. Mrs. Hingham signed. Elissa Hingham—well, what do you know, she forgot to put Horace down! Well, anyway, whatever her last name is, he's Elissa Hingham's husband, and he'll be sure to know why Ann was dressed up. Mother, it wasn't Miss Olive at all, but Ann Joyce dressed up in her clothes?"

"What!" Mrs. Doane almost slid into a chair, and for the first time since Assey had met her, she smiled a genuine smile. "That's not Miss Olive! Oh, that's the best news I've had—of course," she smiled disappeared as she added hurriedly, "I'm sorry about Ann Joyce! That will only add size to the headlines, what with her being on the stage. But anyway, she wasn't staying here. How did she happen to be dressed up in Miss Olive's clothes? When did she come here? How?"

"Let's get out of this hen-party powwow!" Cummings said. "Maybe I should call it a powwow—get that, Assey? That wasn't bad. Pow-wow!"

"It was terrible," Assey told him, "an if you want to know the truth, I can't think of anything but a lot of how's, myself!"

"Trouble is, you're trying too hard," Cummings said. "You won't see the trees for the forest. Come up along the hall to this little sitting room. He led the way to it. Now sit down and listen to me. You thought I was just taking cracks at Rankin because I don't like him. But I meant what I said. I don't trust him. And let me tell you this. No stray pot shot from Washy Doane or anybody else killed that girl. That was a neat, cold-blooded, well-thought-out bit of shooting. Someone stood behind her, Assey, took very, very careful aim, and shot her through the heart. She couldn't have suspected what was coming, and she certainly never knew what hit her. And your friend Rankin—"

Crack Shot

"WHAT about him?" Assey asked as the doctor relighted his cigar.

"Remember the Pochet Home Guard they organized last fall, about the same time all those women started up their little Corpses? Were you here in the Cape Labor Day? I didn't think you were. Well, to stir up enthusiasm, the Home Guard and the Rifle Corps had a shooting match. And your friend Rankin won it with his little pistol. The girl was killed by a good shot. Your friend Rankin is a good shot!"

"So, presumably, is Washy Doane," Assey said. "At any rate, he practices."

"But Ann Joyce," Cummings retorted, "was never Washy Doane's secretary! Instead of howling and whining about you get hold of Rankin! Find out where he was and what he was doing from four till six!"

"From four till six?" Assey said. "You mean, she might have been killed as early as four, Dec? Because Miss Olive used the phone at half-past four or so, an' Freddy used it later. You sure about your time, Doc?"

"Of course I'm not sure!" Cummings said testily. "If I've said it once, I've said it a thousand times that you can't look at a body and say that person died at two minutes and sixteen minutes past two. My guess is between four to six. You certainly can find out from someone when the Joyce girl came here, and who saw her last, and all that sort of thing. You can make some time estimate yourself, on the basis of her coming here."

"There's a little problem here, Doc," Assey went on, "that maybe you ain't considered. That's what's got me feelin' a little floored. Rankin says he gave Miss Olive two nickels to phone with. An—"

"What have Rankin's nickels got to do with the time Ann Joyce was killed?"

"Wa-al," Assey said, "he says he give 'em to her, an' Freddy says she seen Miss Olive leave. But was it Miss Olive, Doc? Was it her, or the girl dressed up like her? Jennie an' I take it for granted it was Miss Olive we seen at the four corners. But was it? We don't know her so well we could swear up and down it was her. Lots of folks has seen Miss Olive, but nobody's seen the girl Ann Joyce. Now, people know pretty much what Miss Olive wears. They see her coat an' they take her for granted. ## CHIMNEY FIRE

The fire department was called to the home of Dr. E. S. Africa, Third avenue, shortly after 12:30 o'clock this afternoon to extinguish a chimney fire. There was no damage.

NO CHARGES

It was stated today by Police Chief George Haehn that no charges are to be preferred by his department as a result of the accident which occurred Friday night at Hertz street and Pennsylvania avenue in which William Mulvey, Jr., was injured. It had been previously incorrectly stated that a charge of reckless driving would be preferred. Mulvey is in the hospital with a fractured shoulder, fractured arm and other injuries received when the car he was driving crashed into the steps of the United Brethren church after leaving the pavement east of Hertz street.

Coming out openly against an order of the German occupation authorities for the first time since the armistice, France last night condemned a German order for the execution of 100 alleged Jewish Communists and Anarchists in occupied France.

The French acknowledged the 100 were "delinquents" instead of hostages such as the Germans have executed in groups this fall but said the very high number provoked "profound uneasiness among Frenchmen."

The Germans said Saturday the 100 would be shot in reprisal for "recent attacks against the occupation troops." They also fined the Jews in the occupied zone 1,000,000 francs ($200,000.00).

In partitioned Yugoslavia and Greece, several hundred thousand Axis soldiers were reported tied up with steady and strong resistance by Serbs and Greeks in a small-scale war.

Draja Mihailovic, a colonel in the Yugoslav army before the Germans over-ran his country last spring, has been promoted to the rank of a full general for his "magnificent work" in organizing the Serb resistance, the Yugoslav government in exile said yesterday.

PALMER CONVICTED IN HARRISVILLE HOLDUP

Pittsburgh, Dec. 15.—(P)—Kenneth George Palmer, 33, of Volant, Pa., was convicted of participating in the robbery of the Harrisville, Pa., First National Bank Sept. 19 in a sealed jury verdict opened today.

The jury retired late Friday and reached a verdict Saturday. Sentencing on the charges of armed robbery and transporting weapons across a state line was deferred until Wednesday.

Two other men, Albert Feelo, 26, of Republic, Pa., and Virgil Everts, 28, of Smithfield, Pa., were killed in a running gun battle with Ellwood City police less than two hours after the hold-up. Palmer was wounded.

AGUINALDO IS NOT INCITING REBELLION

Manila, Dec. 15.—(P)—General Emilio Aguinaldo, who led an insurrection against the United States at the turn of the century, rejected in a statement today Japanese attempts to incite Filipinos to rise against America with him as chieftain.

The Tokio radio and pamphlets dropped from bombers had been urging Filipinos to "follow Aguinaldo; turn your arms against the Americans."

Aguinaldo, now 63, is remaining at his home near Cavite.

SAN FRANCISCO HAS ANOTHER RAID SCARE

San Francisco, Dec. 15.—(P)—A formal army announcement that enemy planes apparently had flown over California put the entire state on an emergency basis today, by order of Gov. Culbert L. Olson.

"Enemy reconnaissance, if not bombing, planes are known to have passed along our coast and to have covered a part of the interior areas," the governor said at Sacramento.

Five times, the army says, there were unidentified planes near or over San Francisco bay in the last week.

PRIVATE IN JAIL FOR KILLING A MOTORIST

Los Angeles, Dec. 15.—(P)—A 19-year-old army private who fired his gun when a motorist ignored his command to halt was in jail today as a suspicion of murder booking today as the army issued an appeal for cooperation with sentinels and patrols.

The army gave Private Eugene I. Tuttle of Divide, Mont., into the custody of the sheriff last night after Mrs. Adele Brandel, 52, socially prominent Los Angeles woman, was shot to death near the Municipal airport.

DISTRICT V. F. W. MEMBERS ENJOY LOCAL MEETING

Despite icy condition of roads, over two hundred World War Veterans, all of whom saw overseas service in the first World War, came from eighteen counties in Northwestern Pennsylvania to attend the regular quarterly meeting of the 4th District of the Department of Foreign Wars, held in the G. A. R. and V. F. W. Memorial Home Association Building at Monument Park in Warren.

The day's work was divided into committee meetings and the general meeting later. The registered service officers of the district, by previous arrangement, made a visit to the State Hospital where the six Spanish War Veterans, the 25 World War Veterans, and the 10 peace time veterans, were assembled to meet the visiting delegation.

The defense council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the 4th District, comprising 57 posts in Northwestern Pennsylvania, under the direction of the chairman, W. Henry Smith, gave consideration to the present grave conditions existing since the declaration of war. As special speakers on the program, the Warren County defense chairman, Allen Gibson, and Warren County Chief Air Raid Warden William Stuart, outlined the course of procedure in the defense program being set up for all localities.

The V. F. W. Defense Council presented two resolutions which met with the unanimous support of group. The one resolution called for a request to Governor James to include in his call for a special session of the State Legislature, the enactment and strengthening of laws relative to subversive activities, and the activities of pro-Japanese propaganda. The second resolution called for the Japanese to be allowed to alienate the American spirit of our citizens. The second resolution asked also that the call include a clarifying of the laws, apparently now conflicting on the matter of aliens not being allowed to carry arms, and yet being issued hunting licenses.

G. E. Harton, of Rochester, Pa., a past commander and an original charter member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars when organized at Columbus, Ohio, in 1909, was decorated with the emblem of the order, and presented with a special designed plaque commemorating the event.

C. A. Guam, department quarter-master-adjutant, from Harrisburg, outlined the forward program of the coming months, indicated the marked growth of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and stressed the need of the hour for every veteran of the first World War to be ready to do all we can in this present World War. He also announced that a new hospital is soon to be built within twenty miles of Harrisburg, to provide 750 domiciliary beds, and 420 general hospital beds.

The next meeting of the 4th District will be held in New Castle in March.

DEFENSE PLANS MADE BY LEGION AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Dec. 15.—At a joint meeting of Frank M. Glendinning Post, American Legion, and the Sheffield Rod and Gun Club held Saturday night in Legion Home, an air raid warning home defense unit for the community was organized and steps were taken to get the unit functioning immediately.

The Rod and Gun Club's new clubhouse, advantageously situated atop Bull Hill, about a mile and a half from town, was made available for and will be used as the observation post, which will be manned 24 hours daily.

The company of observers, consisting of members from each the Legion and Gun Club, is headed by Edward Lubold, World War 1 veteran and member of both the Legion and Gun Club. Chief Observer, Lubold named Edward Gershen and J. E. O'Leary to the assistant chief observer posts.

Over half a hundred members of the two organizations were present at the meeting. In addition to helping organize the defense unit, they had the privilege of hearing the entire home defense program outlined and explained by their fellow member, County Treasurer Allen M. Gibson, who is chairman of the Warren County defense council.

Brief talks were given by William V. "Barney" Christian, commander of the Legion Post who presided at the meeting, and A. K. Daniels, president of the Rod and Gun Club, both of whom pledged full cooperation of their respective organizations in the defense venture.

The observation post and staff organized Saturday by the Legion-Gun Club becomes the fourth and largest unit of the kind in the Sheffield section. The others are at Union, Barnes and Cooper Tract.
